LOOK OF WHITELAND HIGH

From the new buildings to the new faces of the students, Whiteland Community High School has taken on the look of progress. New courses, the cafeteria, and other new additions to the building have speeded up life at WCHS.

Now as the doors are opened, progress can be seen in the face and every action of each student. New doors are being opened to the student, and he enters with a firm strength and dedication to his studies and to his school.

As the pages of the "68" Warrior are turned, so new doors are opened. Progress can be seen in the new classes, sports and other activities of daily school life. Turn the pages and see the new look of Whiteland Community High School.

Look of Initiative, Hunger and Fun

There are many looks that one may give or receive, such as the look of happiness or sorrow, the look of affection or dislike. One could go on and on with the different looks the world contains, but what about the looks one finds at a home away from home—the school.

Whiteland Community High contains many fine looks, such as Mary Jo Pickhart and her look of excitement and suspense at a basketball game, or the look of the senior cord fad. And how about Ann, Chris, Sue and Karen and their looks of satire for today's modern society.

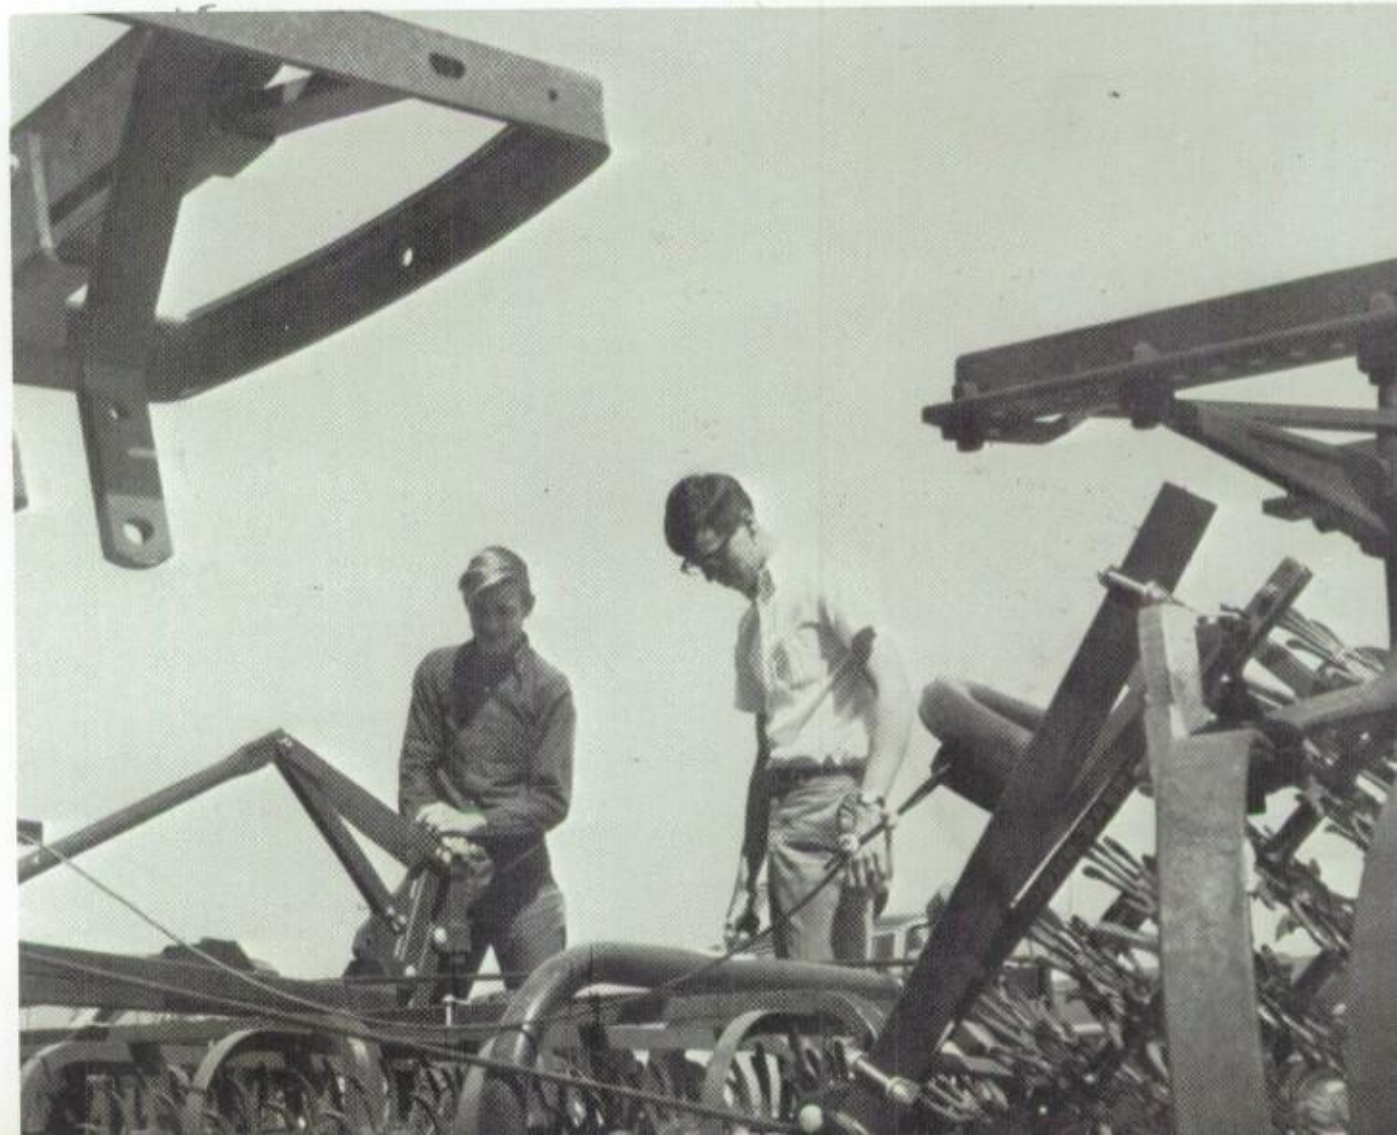

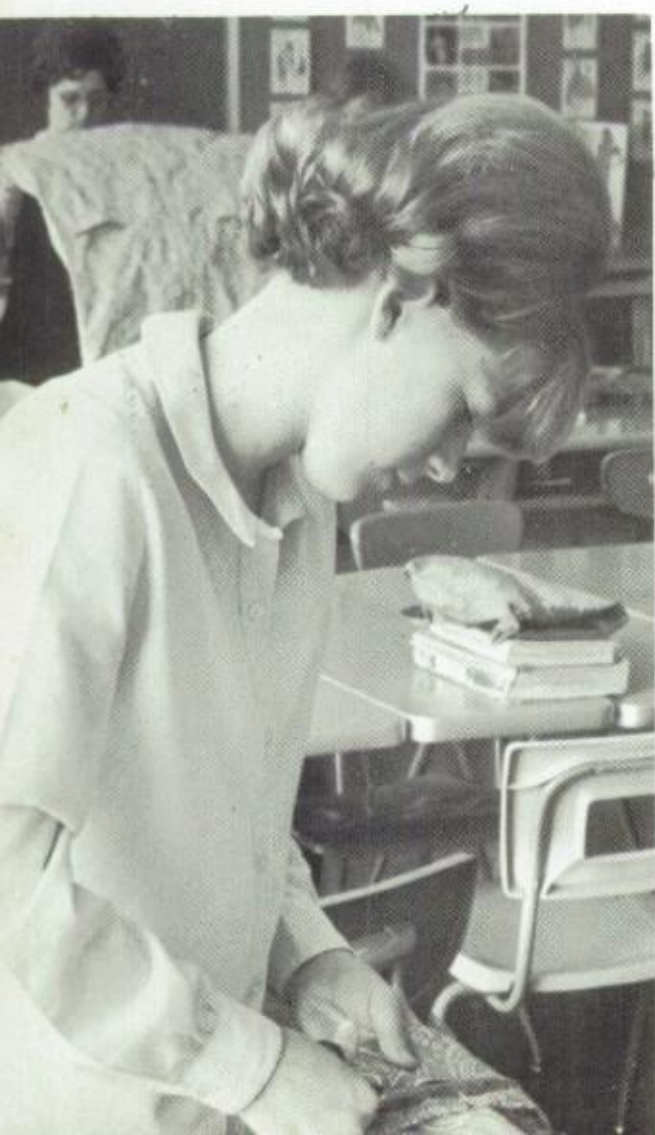

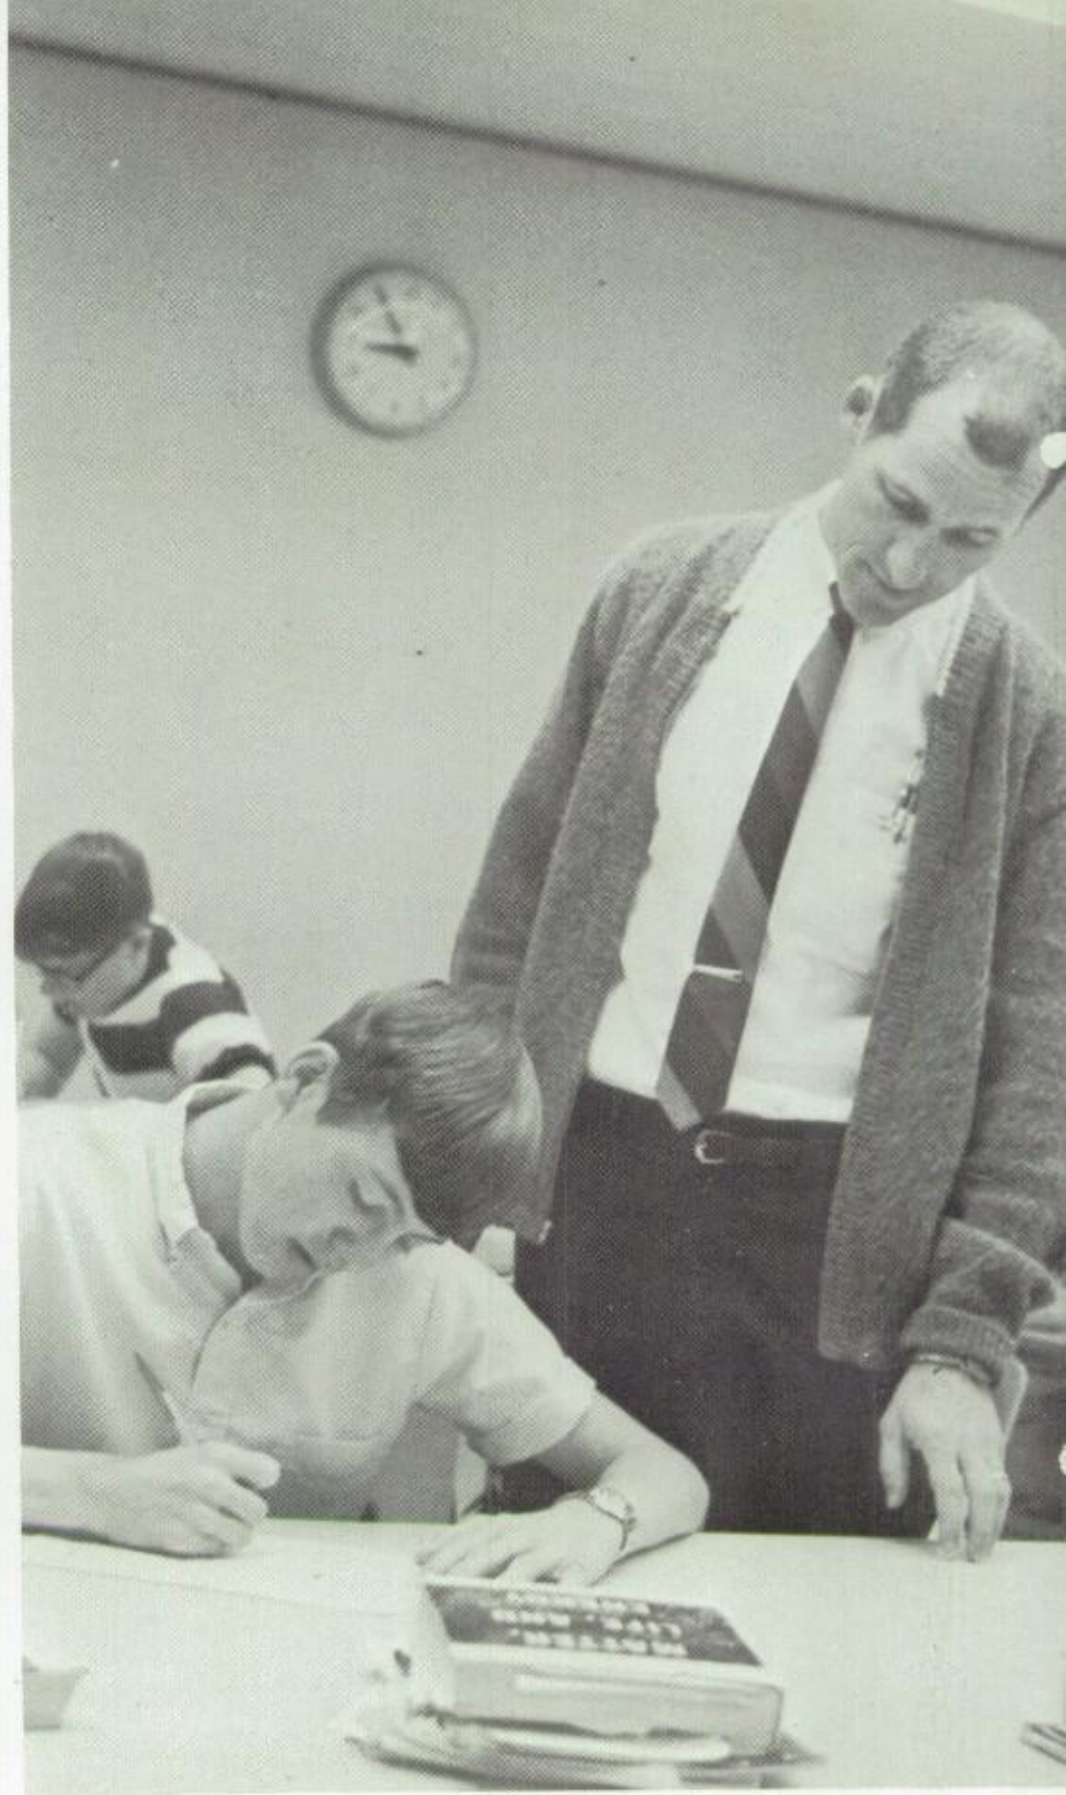

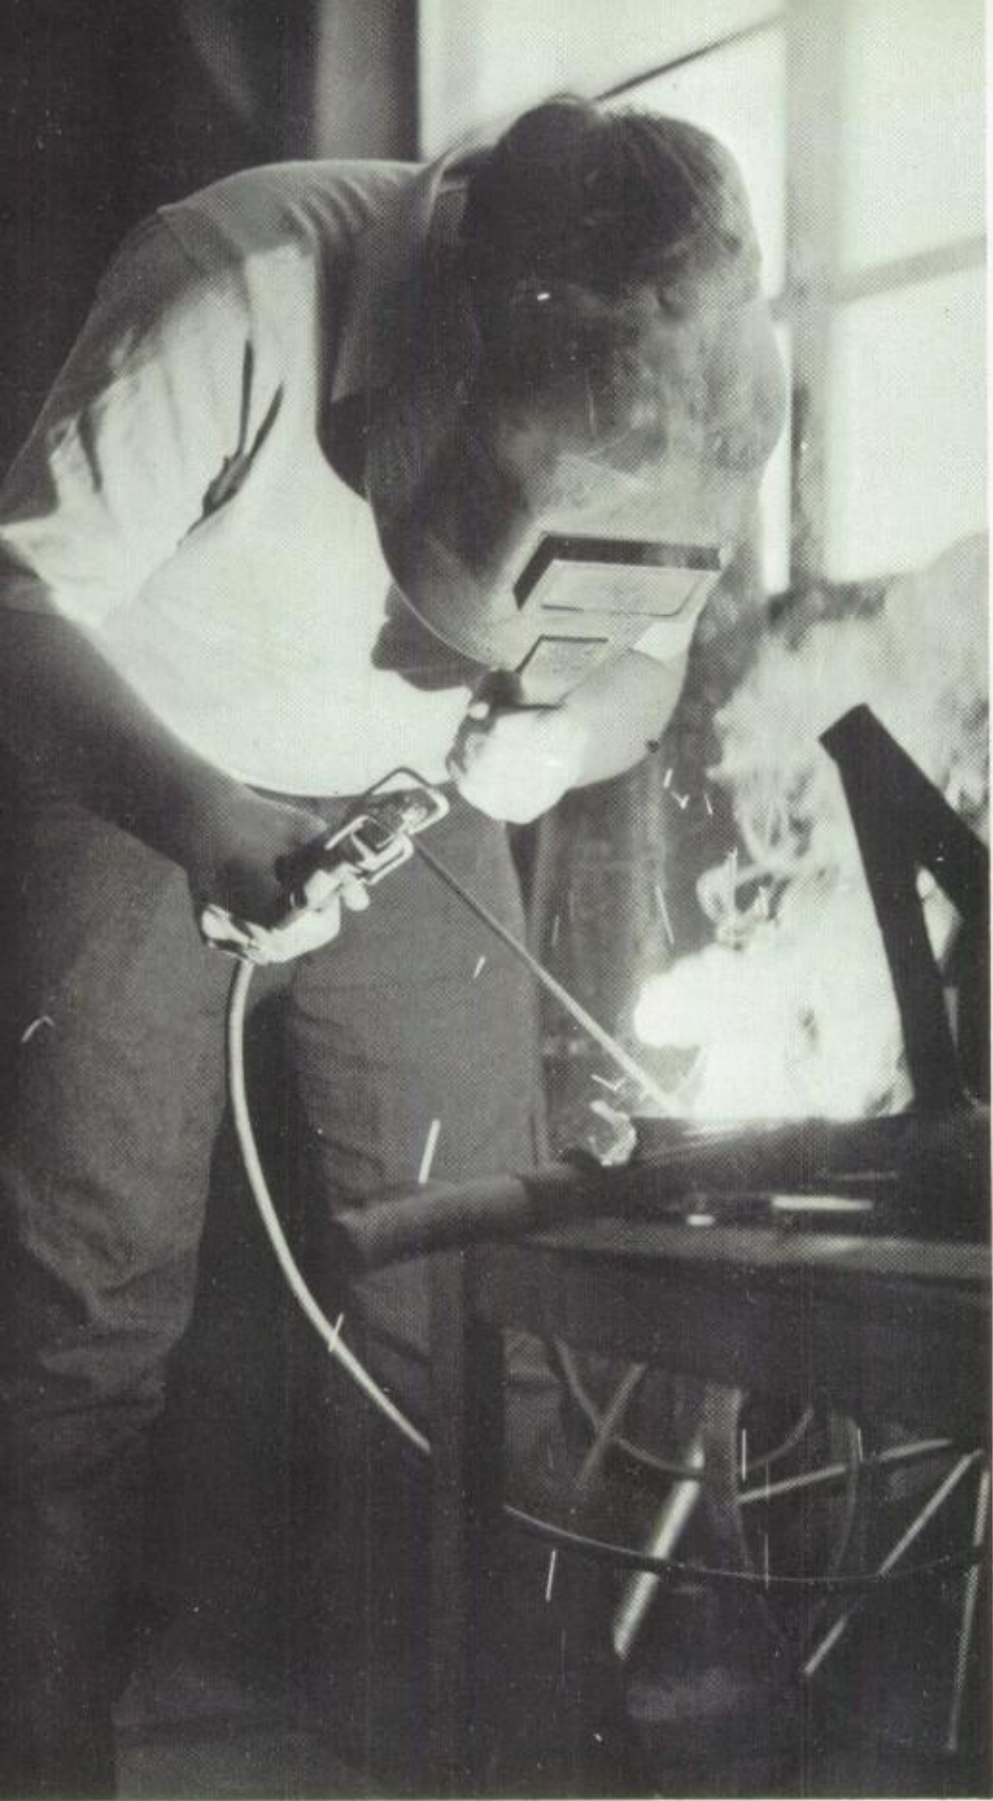

Of course, no school would be complete without the look of accomplishment. This is an illustration from band class. So if you are one who likes to observe the present, better take a quick look at 1968 because Whiteland Community High keeps moving on to bigger and greater things.

Ann Receives Top Awards; Helps With Annual, Plays

Ann was awarded an Optimist Club Youth Award and a National Merit Commendation, was chosen D.A.R. Good Citizen and Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, besides remaining at the top of the class. She was also class editor of the annual, was in the cast of the Senior class play, and helped backstage with the Dramatics Club play. Next year, she plans to attend Indiana University.

Ann Robison, Valedictorian

As the only girl in her Mechanical Drawing class, Ann tries to figure out the male point of view.

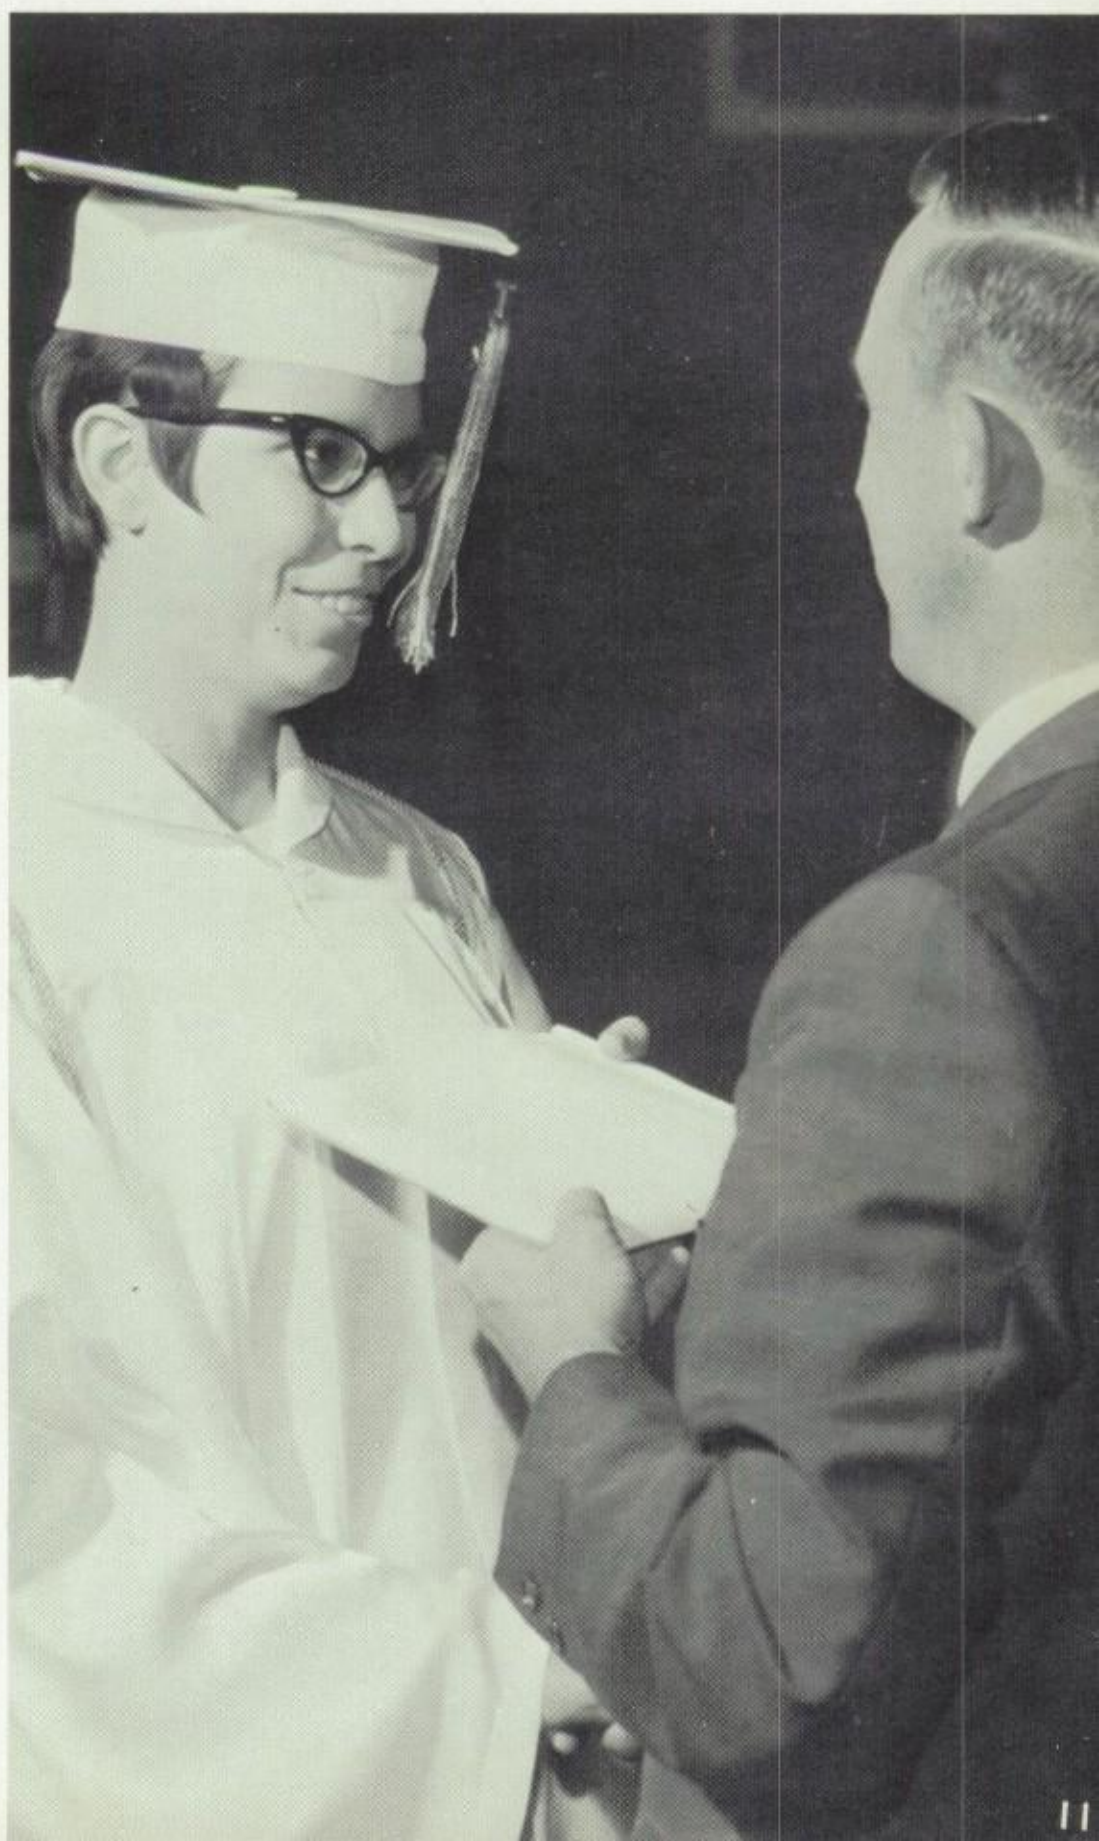

Sharon relaxes from a hard day at school by drawing.

Sharon Threlkeld, Salutatorian

Sharon Is Active in Art, Plays; Also Works Part-time

While maintaining her rank as second in the class, Sharon worked at the Indianapolis Star and News, and still found time to participate in many school activities. She was Secretary of F.B.L.A., President of National Honor Society, and was on the make-up committees of both the senior and Dramatics Club plays. She also drew many of the hoops for basketball. Next year, she plans to enter the business world.

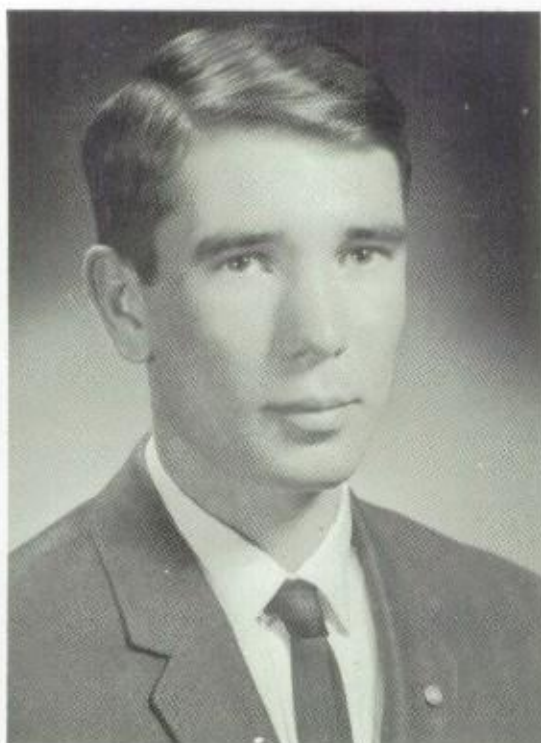

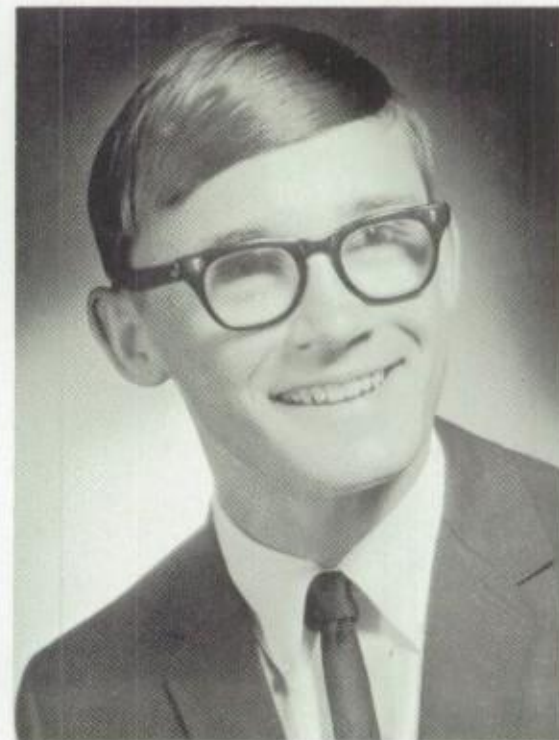

Under the watchful eyes of Vice-President ANN ROBISON, Secretary LYN PARKER, President ROGER FORD, and Treasurer JOYCE CRAWFORD, the senior class leads the student body.

As Graduation Nears, Seniors Sadly Recall a Fun Filled Year

Senioritis reached an all time high in the 1967-68 school year. Displaying senior keys and other senior paraphernalia, seniors exhibited their zaniness on Hobo Day and their pride at Commencement. Senior night included dancing and laughing until 12 a.m. after the Danville game. The Senior Banquet at Steffey's Restaurant was delicious, and "The Campbells Are Coming," the senior play, was a hilarious success.

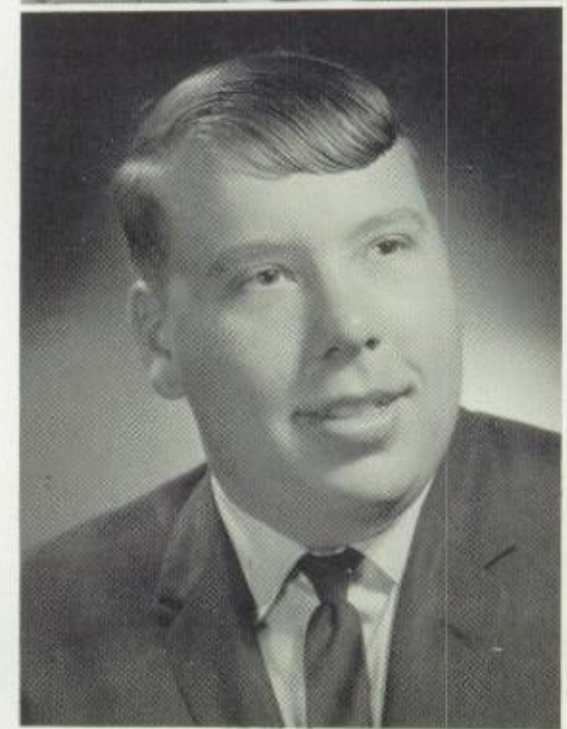

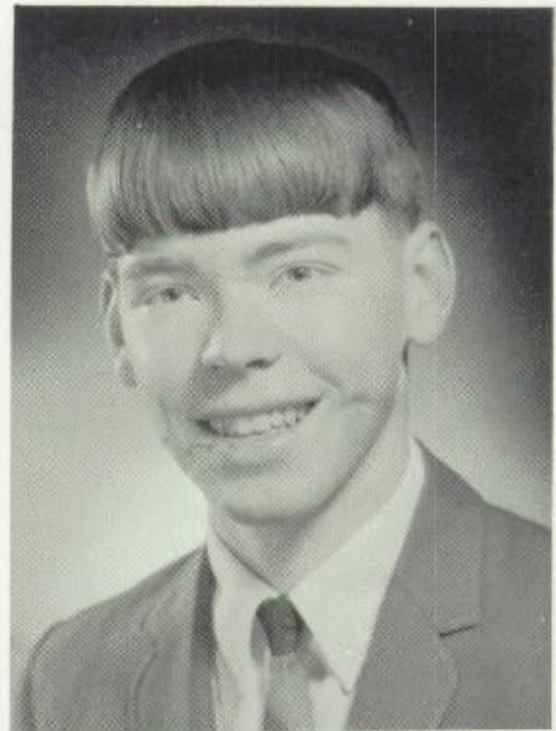

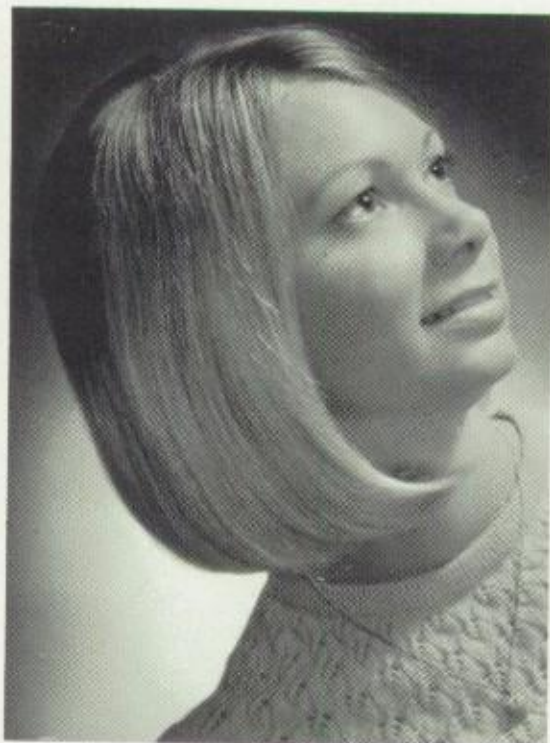

Suddenly realizing that time was short, seniors were measured for caps and gowns, and announcements were ordered. Classrooms were buzzing with the familiar question, "Will you sign my memory book?" Plans for college and jobs were seriously considered. The sadness of graduation reached the seniors as they realized they would never again trudge through the halls to class. Some will come back to visit, but it will never be the same again.

The senior year spelled FUN and FRIENDSHIP for most members of the class, as a new closeness developed among them. In the hallways the ever-popular "Senior Song" echoed, and seniors rejoiced because they were exempt from semester finals. Times were fast, fantastical, and just plain marvelous; they will always be remembered by the class of 1968, THE GREAT!

The Junior Year

The junior class of 1967-68 received class rings at the end of September. All one could hear and see were the juniors showing off their most valuable possession of that moment.

Then when basketball season arrived there was a great need for juniors to work at the ball-games in order to earn money for the class. But that really was not the only reason for the juniors working. They worked in order to decorate for the Junior Prom, which was May 10, at the Sherwood Country Club, with "Three Coins in the Fountain" as the theme.

The yellow rose as class flower and silver and turquoise as class colors were chosen for their senior year.

Class president Gordon Quinn and secretary-treasurer Janis Gaynor discuss sophomore business while vice-president Shirley Leavell is home ill for a day.

Straddling the fence between foolishness of freshmen and insight of the upperclassmen, the sophomores find adventure. They ordered their class rings and many of the boys entered sports competition. During the year, they watched and waited for the time when they would be seniors, which seemed quite an unbearable distance to that second year of high school. It was a time for studying and relaxing, although impatiently, until they could experience the rigorous life of an upperclassman.

Freshmen Start

The freshmen started their first year of excitement and anticipation in high school. The seniors were always looking for them, but only for initiation purposes. Otherwise, the freshmen began on their own, experiencing new and exciting activities tinged with a little insecurity. They were put-to-the-test by upperclassmen, and times were rather hair raising!

Their new ways of high school life began with the choosing of their course of study and they participated in new sports.

The freshmen were not only known for their recklessness and racket, but also for their capacity for giving. Out of the whole school, the class of "71" gave the most for support of an orphan child in Korea, Yoo Jung Soon.

Upon entering the high school building, the eighth graders found themselves shunned by the "upper" classmen. This spirited class adjusted to the stricter high school rules with good-natured grumbling and complaining. After dropping the easy life of grade school, they became enthusiastically involved in Junior High clubs, sports, and other activities.

Connie Grogan and Dave Prescott find the magic of the Sunshine Dance most entertaining.

... And so does everyone else.

The Sunshine Society is one of the largest and most active service organizations in the school. Under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret Ketring, Miss Phyllis Beck, and Mrs. Arlene Wilson, the Sunshine Society not only lends service to the school, such as cleaning up the school yard, but also aids many outside projects such as the distribution of Christmas presents for the underprivileged, donating to the Riley Fund, and collecting for the Heart Fund.

Sponsors, Mrs. Margaret Ketring, Miss Phyllis Beck and Mrs. Arlene Wilson, work together on plans for the Sunshine Society.

Don Dorman works diligently to produce the 1968 Warrior.

The Warrior

Through trials and tribulations the Warrior staff slaved over typewriters, layout sheets, and triplicates to bind together the events and people of the 1967-68 school year at Whiteland High.

Each year a Student Council president is elected by the student body and several representatives are chosen from each class. Led by Mr. James Sleighter and Mrs. Phyllis Myers, the student council set up a code of rules for the student body to make WCHS a better school.

The student council takes a short break after a grueling meeting.

The Whiteland Singers swing out with enthusiasm and sparkle.

The sky is the limit for Whiteland Community High School's vocal Department. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Duvall, and the band, under the direction of Mr. Harlan McGrew, together have made the music department what it is today—the best in Johnson County. Mrs. Duvall has formed many smaller groups in addition to the two choirs who are commonly known as the Whiteland Singers. Among these groups are the Entrees, the Trio, the Boys' Chorus, and brand new mixed group, the Swing Choir. Each group is unique and individual. There is a common bond holding each group together; that is the bond of enthusiasm and a desire to be better than the best. With teamwork like that, even the sky is no limit!

Mrs. Duvall, as well as many others, commends Ann Becker on the fine job she has done in accompanying most of the vocal groups the past few years.

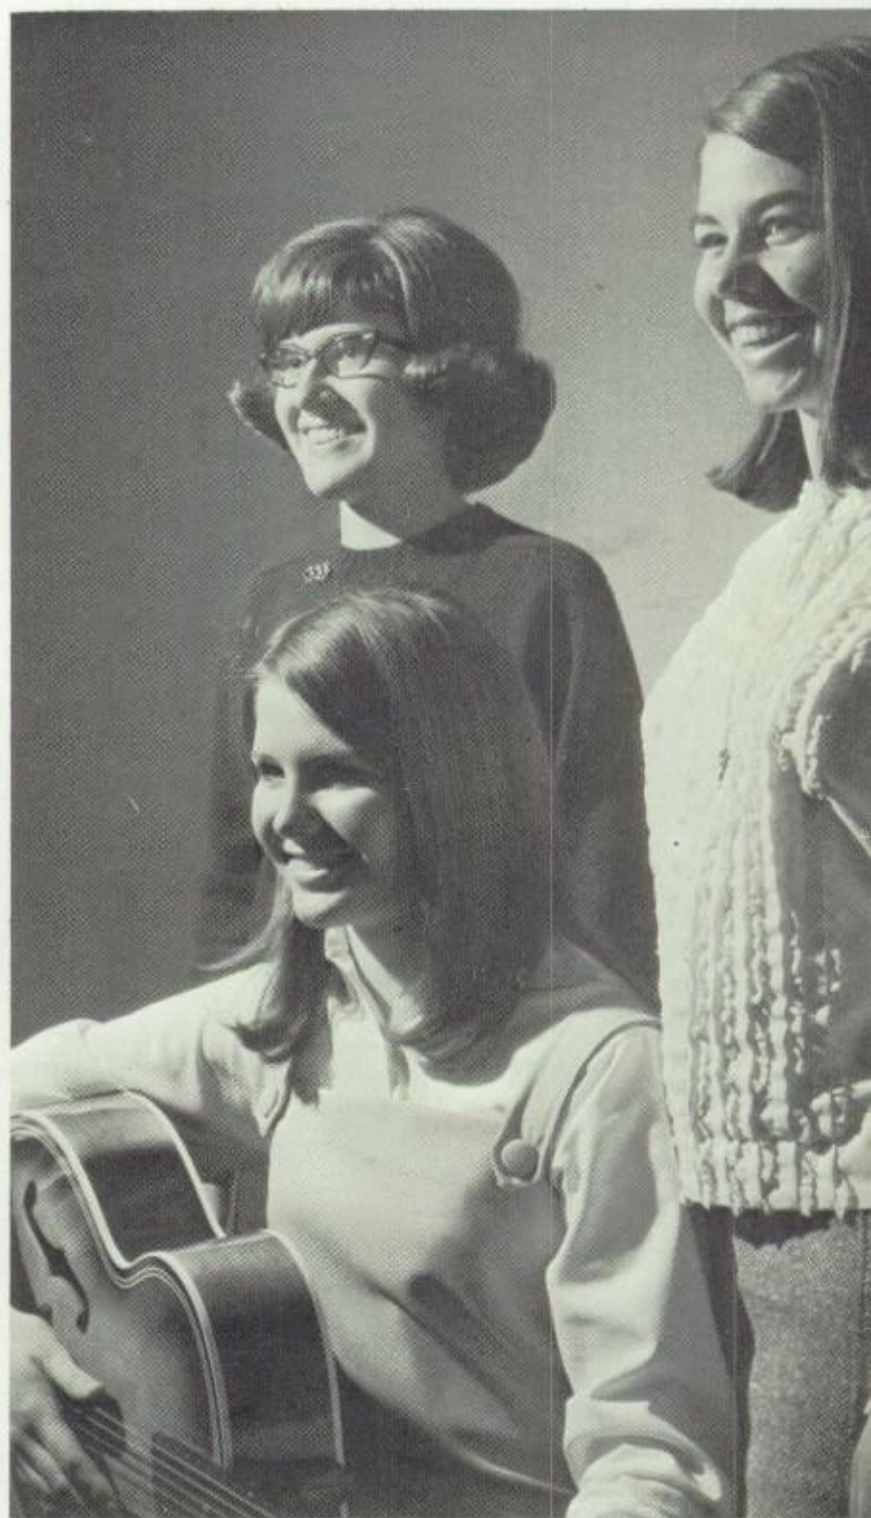

The Entrees are always on the move with a song and a happy face.

Wauneta Church, Mary Jo Pickhardt, and Chris Baker harmonize as a trio.

The Swing Choir, although just beginning this year, has plenty of class.

While Becky Cornelison as the nosy Georgia Butler stirs up more trouble, Dave Philpot as Roy Harrington tries to explain things to Lyn Parker who plays his wife, Arlene. John Lampson as Bruce Douglas listens in exasperation, and Diane Myron as Shadow looks adoringly at Roy Harrington. Other members of the cast were Marlene Burton as Susan Fisher, a part-time maid, Lou Ann Reasoner as Mrs. King, Roy's troublesome mother-in-law, Jerry Matlock as Sheriff Hickson, and Gary Bishop as the mystical Sabu. To the dramatics club we say "congratulations" on your fine play, "Me and My Shadow."

Senior and Spring Plays Prove Talent

friend, Jon Reese as Jeffrey Scudder who loves Kaye, Don Dorman as Kingston Campbell to whom Kaye is engaged, and Ann Robison as Augusta Campbell, Kingston's fussy mother who is forever becoming ill. To the senior class we give our sincere congratulations on their excellent play, "The Campbells Are Coming."

Jeanne Cosat, Patt McKee. Third Row: Cheryl Ogden, Connie Raymer, Pam Carter, Debbie Boone, Marsha Macy.

Entreés Shine Again

Each year the Entreés set aside a scholarship fund to send as many girls as possible to summer music camp. This year, being short of scholarship funds, they produced a variety show to raise money entitled "Send Two and a half Girls to Camp." Also appearing in the show were the Swing Choir, the new Entreés for 1968-1969, and the Boys' Chorus.

To add to the season, the White-land Singers stepped out in perfection with "Broadway '68". The annual staff regrets that there were no pictures to print, but the hard work and determination of "Broadway '68" is something even a picture cannot reveal.

Productions like these prove to the public that the kids of today care, and that's what makes WCHS's music department successful.

Matmen Have Best Year, 10-3

Joe Key is on bottom trying for a reverse, but his opponent still has control.

Referee Jim Watkins, looks on as Reserve Wrestler, Butch Schapson keeps his opponent on the mat.

In his first year at Whiteland, Coach Walt Lyons led the wrestling team to a 10-3 dual meet record, the best in W.C.H.S. history.

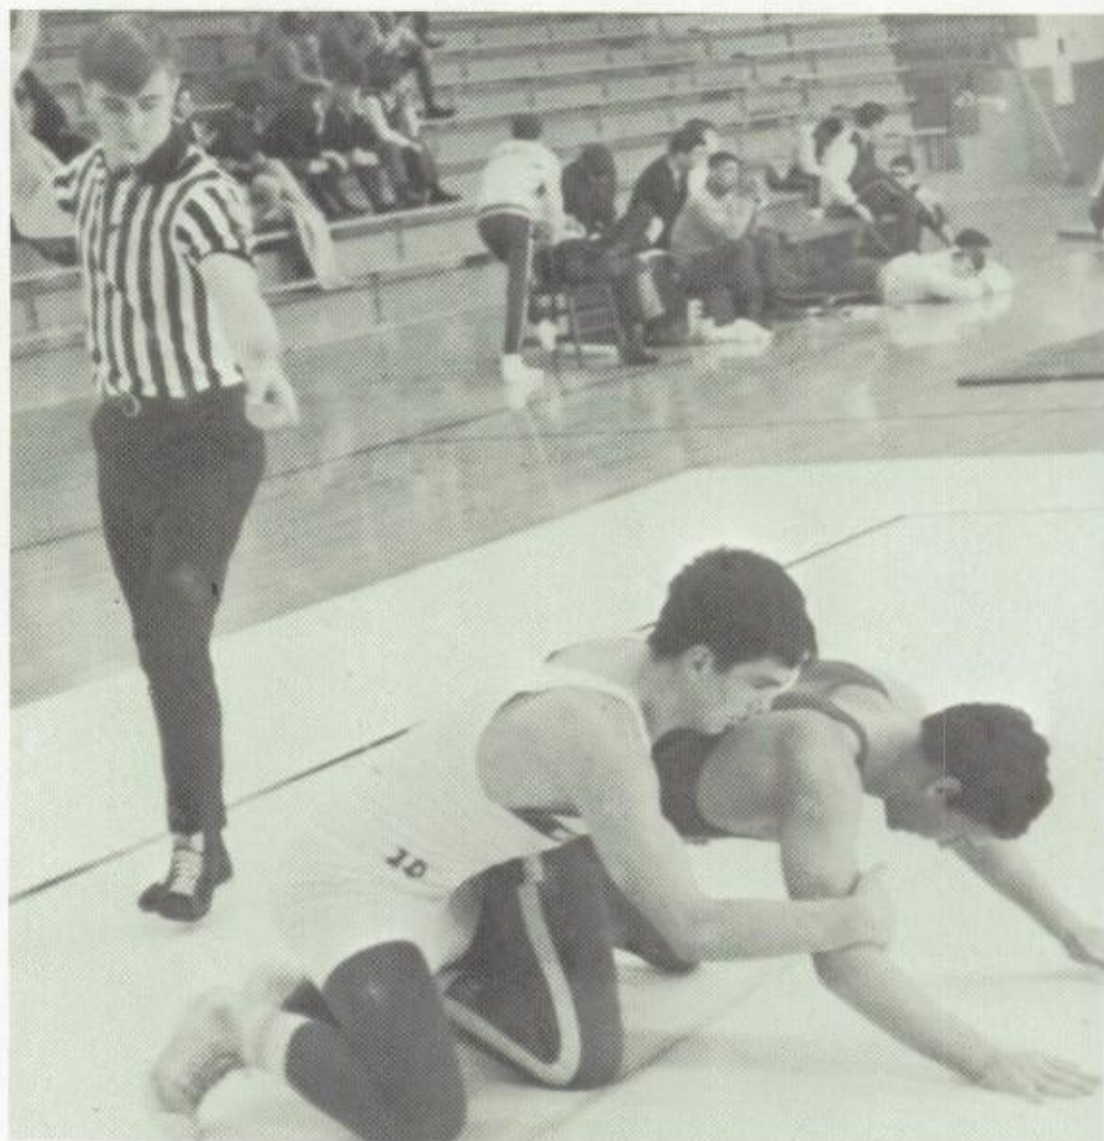

The losses were to Brownsburg, Danville, and Greenwood, but these were avenged as W.C.H.S. downed Mooresville who had previously beaten Danville and Greenwood, and tied Brownsburg.

Some of the better individual records were earned by Mike Flaherty, 14-1; Joe Key, Rick Smith, and Joe Hodge, 12-3; Ollie Pointer, 11-4; and Ernie Fields, 4-0. Joe Key, Mike Flaherty, and Joe Hodge all placed first in the county tourney.

Mr. Lyons says that he is expecting the entire team back next year, since there were no seniors on the squad. He also is expecting to win next years county tourney.

Wrestlers receiving awards were Jerry Andrews, juniors, highest scholastic average; Joe Key, freshman, most improved wrestler; and Joe Hodge, junior, most valuable wrestler.

Joe Hodge, most valuable wrestler, battles with an opponent during a meet against Franklin.

Cheerleaders Lead Cheerblock in Keeping

This year, under the leadership of spirited cheerleaders, Whiteland had the noisiest cheerblock in Johnson County.

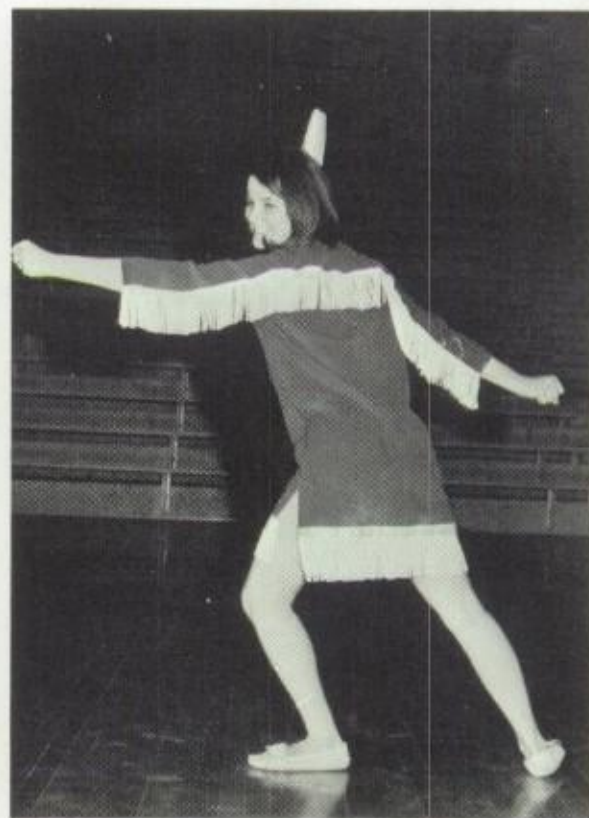

Besides boosting spirit, the cheerleaders promote good sportsmanship and friendly rivalry between schools. Some of the qualities essential to be a good cheerleader are confidence, energy, faith, boldness, timing, and enthusiasm. We have been fortunate to have found many of these qualities in our cheerleaders of present and past years.

Booster Club spirit rings high at the Sectional.

Ending in a victory for the Warriors, the Homecoming game with the Edinburg Lancers was an exciting one, with the final score 10-6.

During halftime, the band performed routines and favorite songs, the Pom Pon girls also performing with them.

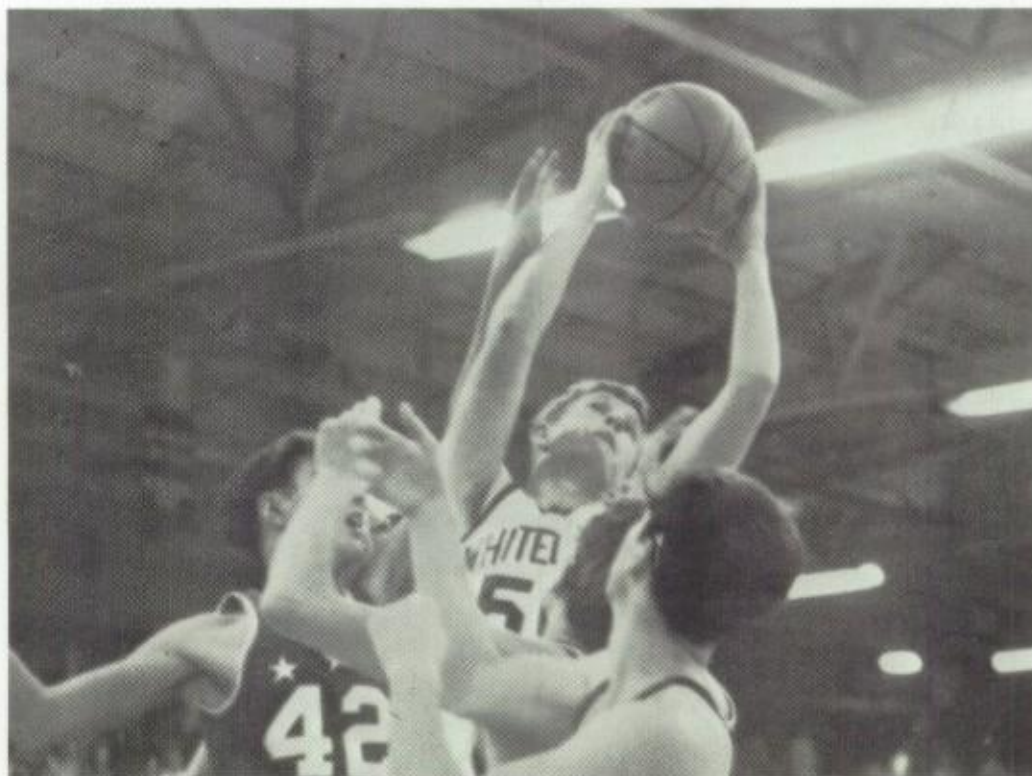

Miss Chris DeMott, sophomore, was crowned by Principal James Sleighter. After the game, a victory dance was held, with all students welcome.

It was an eventful evening for fans and all involved.

Head Coach Larry Bledsoe was pleased with the progress of the seniors.

Butch Zike was given the award of 'Most Valuable Player'. He was also tied in assists with Tom 'Brillo' Lawrence. Seniors Zike and Bill McDonald led the Warriors as co-captains.

McDonald was valuable in rebounding and as a leader.

Jim Robling could be seen at every ball game assisting and encouraging the boys between quarters. Robling was an assistant in basketball for four years.

Senior Butch Zike arches two points over the out-stretched arms of two Indian Creek defenders.

Warriors at Battle in Sectional

Gary "Hawkeye" Hawkins sets for two in the tense Indian Creek battle.

Although the Warriors didn't win the Sectional this year, they played two really terrific games and exhibited the great spirit and sportsmanship associated with Whiteland Community High School. Having given their all, the boys made us more proud of them than ever and said they would walk off with the trophy next year.

Bob Gardner, Bill Lucid, Keith Searcy, Bill Brown, Dan Yeich, Jerry Crossman, Mike Lucid, and Mike Davenport, student manager.

Franklin Sectional Breath-taking

The action was fast and furious in the Whiteland and Centergrove game of the Franklin Sectional. Danny Woods displays this action as he grabs the ball.

Always on his toes, junior Mike McElwain lines up another two points in the Franklin Sectional.

First Row: Susie Egbert, Patty Magennis, Georgia Crossman, and Miss Pat Clark. Second Row: Susan LaFara, Susan Rademacher, Cheryl Ogden, Joyce Crawford, Patt McKee, Debbie Summers, Jeanne Suding, Sandy Metz, Pam Wooten, and Martha Johann. Third Row: Debbie Werden, Teresa, Jeanne Cosat, Jan LaFara, Elia Torres, Donna Carpenter, Susie Pickhardt, Patty Thompson, Patsey Patrick, Peggy Hendrickson,

Golf Is In, Adds Prestige

This year, under the guidance and coaching of Mr. Walter Lyons, the golf team had a fairly successful year. Because of the newness of golf as a sport at Whiteland Community High School, we have no golf course; our home games were held at Sherwood Country Club.

Senior Greg Crandall shows excellent form as he prepares for a long drive.

row) Steve Bayless, Dean Parham, Dale Barnett, and Joe Elkins, take time out from practice to "look at the birdie."

Chesser Added

This year the administration, under the leadership of Mr. James Hannah, Superintendent, spent many hours trying to make Whiteland Community High School the best school in Johnson County. In order to achieve this goal they urged the completion of the beautiful cafeteria, bought some new facilities, and selected a good faculty. To the administration we owe a vote of thanks for the great effort they put forth this year.

Principal James Sleighter, who received his B.S. from Franklin College and his M.S. from Butler University, prepares to begin his daily duties, some of which are faculty supervision and the improving and developing of the school curriculum.

Having obtained his B.S. from Oakland City College and his M.S. from Butler University, Vice-principal Joseph Fielden, who is also athletic director, makes arrangements for next year's sports events.

to Administration

Superintendent James Hannah, who received his M.S. from Indiana State University, proudly displays plans for a new Junior High.

A busy man, Mr. Kenneth Chesser, who received his B.S. from Oakland City College and his M.S. from Butler University, arranges for purchasing, transportation, and curriculum in his role of Assistant Superintendent.

The members of the school board, Vice-President Robert McClain, Superintendent James Hannah, Secretary Lewis Smith, President Robert Pickhardt, Mr. Gene Dawson, Assistant Superintendent Kenneth Chesser, and Mr. Floyd Dougherty, discuss school policies and needs.

The Director of Guidance, Mr. Gerald Ferguson, who received his B.S. and M.S. from Indiana State University gives some friendly advice to students.

Mrs. Phyllis Myers, our pretty guidance counselor, who received her B.S. from Manchester College and her M.S. from Ball State University, prepares to type final grades on permanent records.

Elizabeth Melvin, secretary, and Florence Harbert, bookkeeper—treasurer, examine the school records.

Mrs. Pansy Melton, secretary to the Principal and bookkeeper, and Betty Stillabower, clerk-receptionist, discuss their notes.

Mrs. Ruth Anne Maze
Mrs. Helen Rogers

Mrs. Joyce Utterback

After several meetings the English teachers finally selected next year's texts. Other teachers of English not pictured are Mr. Donald Treibic, Mrs. Esther Demaree, and Mrs. Mary Essex. Reports have it that Mrs. Long, Mrs. Maze, and Mrs. Utterback will be leaving next year. To them we say "good luck". To the others we say keep up the good work!

Mrs. Baughman, head of the English Department, concentrates on helping a student with reading.

This year, as in past years, the Art department has been a great help.

Because of the skill and enthusiasm in this department, many posters and signs were available when needed. Also, the department put out several excellent displays this year.

Ken Fowler concentrates on completing his excellent piece of artwork.

Rotating the eighth grade girls every 12 weeks was a new aspect of our curriculum this year.

Interests were motivated by field trips to grocery and furniture stores, guest speakers, and surveys.

Typing Students Show Business Skills

Once again the business department has brought recognition to Whiteland Community High School by means of its business skills. Many of the students received first ratings in the Johnson County bookkeeping contest.

This year some new equipment was bought, much to the delight of those who got to use it!

Senior Joyce Crawford seems to be pecking away on her typewriter in Typing II Class.

This year, as in past years, our Agriculture and FFA boys brought recognition to Whiteland High School. The boys competed in crop and soil judging contests. At right Lee Robison and Ricky Smithey examine seeds under the watchful eye of Mr. James Cummings.

Mr. James Cummings takes a moment from his work to ponder matters of importance.

Music Students Practice in New Wing

Mrs. Joyce Duvall
Mr. Harlen McGrew

Mrs. Duvall and the choir are practicing in their new music room.

After receiving a much deserved music wing, the band and chorus departments proceeded to build their reputations as the "best" in Johnson County.

The chorus put on several excellent variety shows, showing their versatility and determination to be best. Several chorus members competed in the annual Solo and Ensemble Contests and brought home several awards.

The band, 74 members strong, began the year with good performances at both football and basketball games. The band received a strong second place rating in its first year at Marching Contest. Also several band members competed in the Solo and Ensemble Contest. The band finished the year with several good concerts.

Mr. McGrew leads as the band plays in their newly constructed band room.

School Workers Keep Busy as They Cook and Clean Building

Our kitchen workers in the back row are: Mrs. Norma Harris, the head cook, Mrs. Betty Phelps, Mrs. Carol Garrison, Mrs. Frances Fowler, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, and Mrs. Helen Jones. Those in the front row are: Mrs. Beulah Hyatt, Mrs. Marjorie Sleeth, Mrs. Mary Shepherd, Mrs. Wilma Mitchell, Mrs. Oma Moore, and Mrs. Jan Miller. Mrs. Ruth Brownfield and Mrs. Barnhart are not pictured.

To all those who have helped make this a great year for Whiteland Community High School we owe a vote of thanks. To the cooks for fixing noontime meals every day, to the janitors for keeping the school cleaned, and to the faculty for patiently trying to educate us.

Mrs. Bernice Fleener and Mrs. Margaret Hardin, our friendly and hard-working matrons, step back to examine their work in cleaning the fire box. Besides cleaning the fire boxes the matrons cleaned the rest rooms, the concession area and keep windows and mirrors sparkling.

Mr. Walter Roth and Mr. Ula French, our outwardly gruff but friendly janitors, return folding chairs to the band room after the awards day program. These men were responsible for emptying the waste baskets, sweeping floors, and general handiwork.

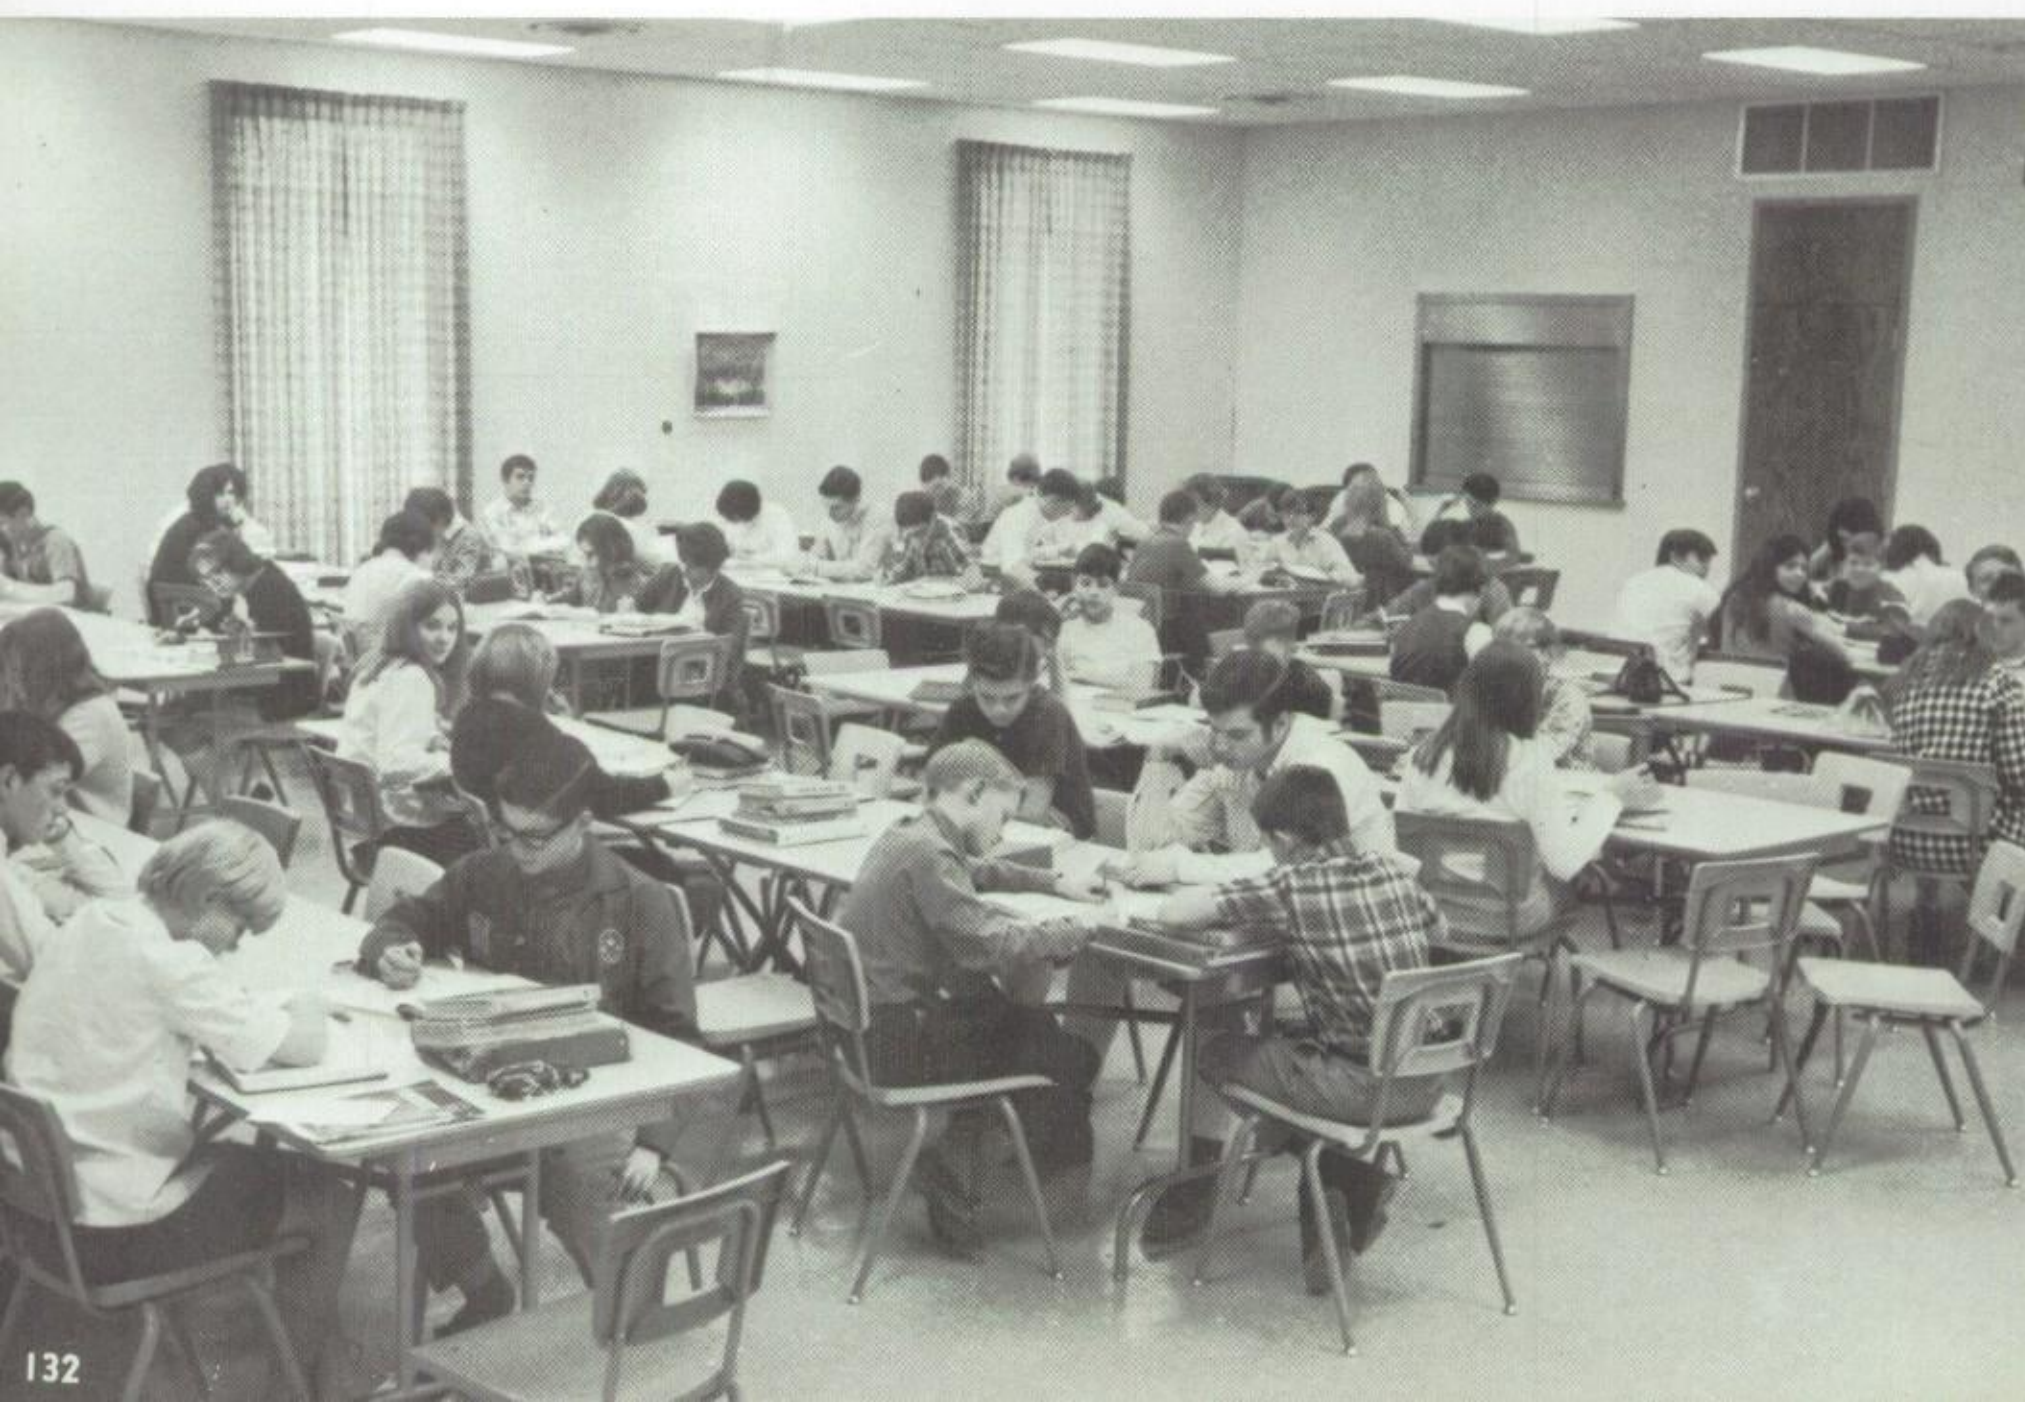

Loren Scott and Tom Lake operate the offset press which has been used to produce programs, and memos, and the Smoke Signals throughout the year.

Students take advantage of their study hall to get some of their studies out of the way. This is the first year for the new cafeteria, where study hall is located for all periods except the lunch hour.

Bobby Blake and Mike Osborne concentrate on laying out print type.

Freshman Carla Long wisely holds her nose to block out the smell of her friend, the starfish.

A Time for Joy, A Time for Tears

The Entrees think tenderly of WCHS as they sing "The Halls of Ivy".

Dr. Merrill McFall gives the commencement address, his topic being "The Goal Line of Life."

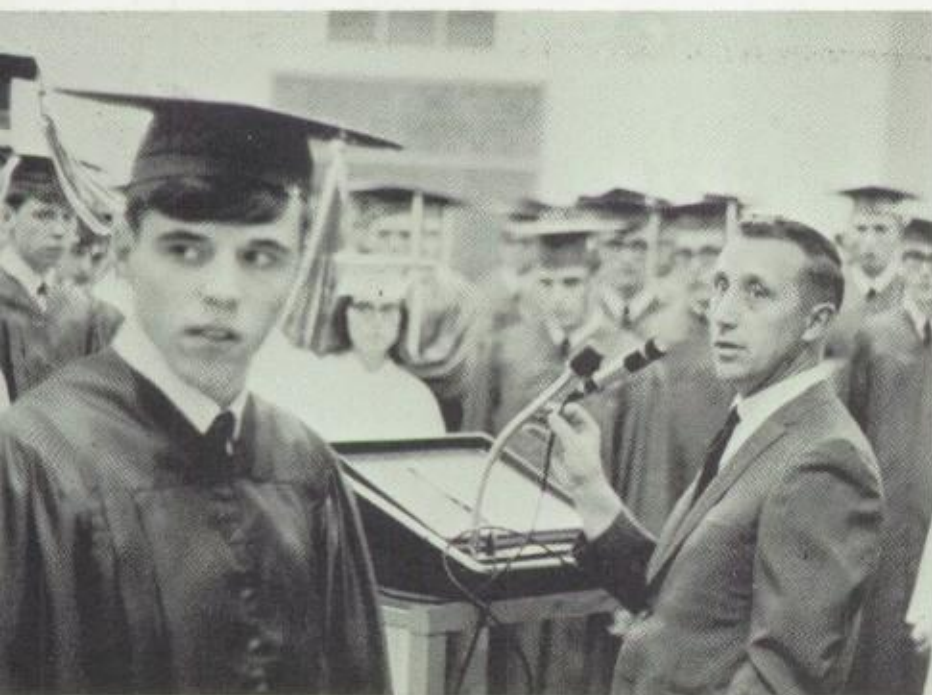

... And then the class of 1968 (led by President Roger Ford) graduated together.

First the distribution of diplomas ...

With the recessional comes tears of joy and sighs of relief.

Mr. Sleighter gives last minute instructions to tense and apprehensive seniors.

But all too soon the tension is broken.

The Last Look

Though it seemed an endless drive, we finally reach page 160—the last page of the 1968 Warrior. Many do not realize the hopes, the fears, and the tedious work that goes into the assembling of such a book. There are those who abruptly find out and cannot take the heavy load that working on a yearbook offers.

I thank Mr. Nash for the guidance he gave, the excellent photographs, and the faith he had in our tiny staff. I thank Jerry Hartley and J. Wilson photographers for contributing additional pictures. I wish to thank the Daily Journal for contributing pictures on the title page and page 7 of the Warrior and Squaw. I thank Mr. Sleighter for his patience and help. Mrs. Maze, who gave so much of her time and patience should certainly be commended.

But most of all, as editor of the 1968 Warrior, I wish to thank those sparse few who have locked elbows with me and braved the nearly impossible task. For in doing so, each one has left a piece of himself in this yearbook, and now what seemed a cross to bear is a worthwhile experience to look back on. There were happy times and rough times, gladdening times and maddening times.

Now as we take our last look at Whiteland High we thank you, the student body, for making it possible for us to have the 1968 Warrior, and we hope that in the years to come you may turn the pages of this book and once again see the brilliance of the new look of Whiteland High.

Christine Conrow
